ORGAN PIPES - Friends of Music

The interest in pipes from the old organ greatly exceeded the quantity we were prepared to make available. At the upcoming Ministry Fair on September 9th/10th, the Knights of Columbus will again accept donations for the new Friends of Cathedral Music Fund. Donations of any amount are gratefully accepted; those who donate $200 or more may claim a pipe from the old organ as a gift, if they wish, while the supply lasts. The previously available pipes were wood, this set comprises metal pipes. If you would like to reserve a pipe, contact Barney Zeng at BarneyZeng@sourcekeysolutions.com. (If interest continues to be high, we may be able to make some other remaining pipes available.)

Room in the Inn is gearing up for another winter season! The Room in the Inn ministry will begin our season on Tuesday, November 7th. We will host 20 homeless men in the Fleming Center every Tuesday night from November until the end of March. The men are picked up at the downtown Room in the Inn center. Dinner, showers, a warm bed, breakfast and lunch are provided. This is a large ministry and requires a lot of volunteers and support from the parish. Watch the bulletins for sign ups and needed supplies.

We need help!!! Currently we are seeking a co-coordinator to help with planning and support. Please prayerfully consider helping.

In 1902, Bishop Thomas Sebastian Byrne purchased the property at the corner of 20th Ave. and West End Ave. with plans to build a new Cathedral for the Diocese of Nashville. In 1908, the rectory was completed and the Bishop moved in to supervise the construction of the new buildings. The Pro-Cathedral was finished in 1909 and the school opened with classrooms on the second and third floors with the chapel on the first floor.

In 1909, the building of the Cathedral of the Incarnation was begun. The architect was Fred Asmis from Nashville. The first part to rise above the ground was the bell tower, or campanile, which would be around 100 feet tall. The bell tower was designed similar to one built at Saint Damasus in Rome. The church was designed after the Basilica of San Martino ai Monte in Rome.

The inside dimensions of the church were 175 feet x 96 feet. The sanctuary was built to seat 1,000 people comfortably. Later, after two renovations, the altar area was enlarged and the sanctuary now seats about 800 people. There were three exquisitely carved marble altars modeled after altars at churches in Rome. The pews were made of solid oak in Jackson, Tennessee. They are the ones still currently used with the Celtic cross at the ends. The door and the five confessionals in the rear of the church were also made of fine oak.

There were 22 columns and 26 pilasters to support the roof. The ceiling was made of Scagliola, a fine plaster used for the first time in the United States. The stations of the cross were also made of Scagliola.

There were 20 clerestory windows made of prismatic glass near the highest part of the roof. The lowest sections of the windows were opened and closed by turning a wheel in the choir loft. There were registers in the wooden floors that provided heat from underneath. There was also an electric vacuum system to help keep the building clean.

The lighting system was of magnificent brass chandeliers suspended from the ceiling with 350 lights, declared to be one of the largest and most efficient in the south.

The baptismal font was made in Italy and came from Saint Mary of the Seven Sorrows where it had been for ten years. It was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Timothy, a well-known Catholic family.

The Cathedral of the Incarnation was dedicated on July 26, 1914, the 20th anniversary of Bishop Byrne's Episcopal ordination. There were 1,000 people present with five bishops and many priests. Bishop Byrne was the main celebrant and Bishop Joseph Scrembis delivered the sermon. There was also a choir of 100 providing music accompanied by the beautiful sound of the new Pilcher organ.

Cursillo – A Spiritual Resurrection Mark Your Calendar!

There's a movement in the Diocese of Nashville that's intended to help individual Catholics develop an understanding of what it means to lead a fully Christian life. It's called Cursillo, and at its simplest, it's a three-day weekend at Camp Marymount in Fairview, TN. Cursillo focuses on building a deeper relationship with God and living out the call to Christian leadership. The weekend will include talks, group discussions, and personal reflection time, all designed to help you grow in our faith and discern your role in the Church.

Really, it's an adventure for adults to rediscover being Catholic and to explore how you individually bring being Catholic to your daily life. On top of that it's a great way to make true friends by sharing the experience with Catholics from other parishes in the diocese.

The Fall weekend is coming up, so now is the best time to apply while there is space available. Here are the dates for the Fall weekend.
